- Students are expected to select the most appropriate answer.
- All the questions are compulsory.
- No marks will be deducted for wrong answer.

I. Read the passage given below and choose the correct option to answer the questions: -

Man's dependence on animals and plants cannot be ignored. Animals are killed for meat and skin, trees are cut down for wood and paper; Plants are uprooted for food and medicine. If we go on using nature as thoughtlessly as we have been doing, nothing worth while in nature will be left for our posterity. Against this background, many countries have passed protective laws in order to safeguard wildlife. There are more than 1200 National parks, wildlife reserves and similar protected areas throughout the world to ensure that rare wild animals and trees are saved from extinction. One group of animals which have become extinct are dinosaurs. The reason for their extinction is not known. However, people guess that this is because of the change in environment. The dinosaurs could not adapt themselves to the new environment and as a result perished.
